

University of Southern Maine
USM Digital Commons

PJC "Newsance", 1948-1957

Student Newspapers

10-27-1954

Portland Junior College Newsance, 10/27/1954

Portland Junior College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.usm.maine.edu/pjc_newsance

Part of the American Studies Commons, Creative Writing Commons, Other History Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation

Portland Junior College, "Portland Junior College Newsance, 10/27/1954" (1954). PJC "Newsance", 1948-1957. 98.

https://digitalcommons.usm.maine.edu/pjc_newsance/98

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at USM Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in PJC "Newsance", 1948-1957 by an authorized administrator of USM Digital Commons. For more information, please contact jessica.c.hovey@maine.edu.

THE NEWSANCE

Vol. 1 No 5

Oct. 27, 1954

VOTE TODAY !!

Today is the big day at PJC. The election campaigns are over today and you will decide who the student leaders are to be. Regardless of which party you support, VOTE today !!

CAMPUS INTERVIEWS

Here we are with our campus interview column again. We would have had it last week, but our roving reporter roved too much. (He was caught trying to interview dormitory students at PJC.) Anyway, he's back again and he interviewed several students here on the campus with this week's question: "Do you think that part-time work hurts a student's studies?"

Reggie Dra peau, freshman: "If the student limits his work to a few hours a day and still leaves time for studies, it shouldn't hurt his grades."

Hugh Strom, freshman: "I think it actually helps a student's grades. With too much time on his hands a guy becomes lazy. I work about 45 hours a week after school, and I'm getting by, so I think a few hours wouldn't hurt anybody's studies. I wouldn't recommend full-time work for students, though."

Eric Lindholm, senior: "The only way I can see working part-time is a job on Friday nights and Saturdays. Any other time would foul up your studies. I used to work part-time but it dragged my grades down."

Dick Renshaw, freshman: "I work a couple of days a week part-time, and I figure that the only way to work part-time is to work afternoons, until about 6 o'clock. This leaves your evenings free for studies and shouldn't hurt your grades. It all depends on how the individual arranges his time."

So, there you are, as George Gobel would say. Remember, this is your weekly paper. If you have an opinion you want printed, or any ideas, just hustle right over to the old News Room and see our co-editors, J.P. Smith or Tom Richards, or that ace reporter, Lloyd Ludie. We need writers! We need somebody with talent. (We ain't got it)

PJCS Chapel Service

Don't forget the Chapel Service at 10:00 Friday, - room 302 for only 10 minutes. Take advantage of this opportunity for a little quiet meditation. See you there?!

OUTING CLUB PLANS EXPEDITION?

Calling all you rugged(?) outdoorsmen. The Outing Club and those intrested will meet in Room 205 November 10th to arrange an invasion of Merry Pond. Be sure to bring your five bucks ($5.00) to cover expenses. For added info, see Al Clarke.

JAZZ CLUB -----CRAZY? MAN-----

Last Wednesday evening at Westbrook Junior College, the guys and gals in the Jazz Club elected their club officers. The Directors are, Anna Santorro and Paul Bankson. The Secretary is Sally Brown, the Treasurer is Dick Winckler. The club meets again tonight at WJC and it's "Stan Kenton Night". Mr. Donald Ferguson, an authority on jazz and a personal friend of the famous Kenton will give a talk and play some of Kenton's records, from his earliest days to the present. Anyone who likes this music is heartily welcome to come any Wed. night. You don't have to be an authority on jazz, just like it and want to know a little about it. Y'all come!

BIG SUCCESS FOR PJC

The Community Chest Supper at PJC was a resounding success and a credit to the school. Everybody really filled up on that delicious faculty cooking. And, the school gained stature as a "college with interest and social initiative" How come?? What gave PJC this social recognition?? Who's responsible??? The answer is easy. YOU, - the students, have put PJC in front. Soooo, you see, a little participation in activities to enjoy yourself can work two ways. For PJC and yourself. Keep it up!!

----- GET THIS -----

Mr. J.F. Jacques recently gave this assignment to his composition students: Write a composition about fried eggs. We're printing one of the papers he got, which we thought was a good answer to the assignment. It's by Bob Davis, a freshman. Quote:

"It, (the fried egg) sits there in its hot seat, staring at you with a pale yellow eye, (seeming to reproach you) and its edges curling up in scorn toward you. Could you eat the poor thing? After you've wiped the grease spots away, you gobble the thing. How can you like it?

Gentlemen, you and your kin may have all the fried eggs in the world because I wouldn't touch one for love nor money. Just give me a light and another cup of mud and stand back and watch a satisfied man."

That's all of the Newsance for this week, you lucky people. But you can't escape, - we'll be back next week!! So look for the handy-dandy double-duty issue of the Newsance in the cafeteria next week. (It makes a good paper towel for wiping up spilled coffee.) See ya!